WHOLE TRAIN MARKED TO "CASTLE BUSCH."

Forty Cars of Material for Alpine Village at World's Fair Sent to St. Louis Brewer.

GOODS REMAIN IN BOND.

Trouble for the Treasury, Exposition Management and Port Surveyor Grows From Enthusiasm of Swiss.

The Republic Bureau, 14th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, May 23.-According to gossip at the Treasury the Surveyor of the Port of St. Louis, the Treasury Department and the management of the World's Pair have been Criven nearly wild by an Alpine village.

Some enterprising Swiss people conceived the idea that the Exposition would not be complete without an Alpine village. One had been shown at the Paris Exposition with much success. To this end the thrifty Swiss solicited Adolphus Busch to forward

When St. Louis was busy entertaining the visitors to the Dedication a notice was sent o Mr. Busch that a package was in the Custom-house addressed to "Honorable Adolphus Busch, Castle Busch, St. Louis.

Mr. Busch's business agent took the card and applied for the package. The clerk asked, 'Did you bring wagons with you?'
It transpired that the "package" was a consignment in bond of forty-two carloads of material from which was to be constructed the Alpine village on the Exposition

The agent surmised that he had a white elephant on his hands. The railroad began clamoring for its cars and the customs officers demanded the removal of the goods from their custody,

The agent, who had expected to carry away the package in his pocket, appealed to his chief, and the owner of Castle Busch suavely informed him that something must be done, as there were many dollars invested in that village.

The Surveyor of the Port appealed to Washington. He was instructed that the goods might remain in bond, but that the shippers would have to bear the expense of storage, and that he might build a warehouse if the shippers would bear the expense.

This did not suit the plans of the thrifty Switzers. They held that as the goods were shipped in boud the United States were responsible for their safe-keeping, and that the burden of responsibility was on the Government.

The matter has hung fire for several weeks and has finally been solved by the railroad which freighted the goods. The officials of the road notified Mr. Busch that he would have to pay a heavy rental for the cars containing the village. In this emergency a place was found on the Exposition grounds where the material could be stored until ready for use.

until ready for use.'
So far as the United States are concerned So far as the United States are concerned, provision for just such thrifty schemes has been made, in that the law provides that buildings and spaces within the Exposition grounds are "constructive bonded warehouses and yards." The only concern of the Government is that none of the foreign manufactures shipped to the St. Louis Exposition get into circulation without paying the regular tariff duties. The case probably will decide all such schemes in the future.

This gigantic shipment of forty-two carloads of material for only one foreign exhibit also discloses the fact that the Louisiana Purchase Exposition will be bigger even than its projectors imagined.

FIERCE DOG ATTACKS AND INJURES OWNER.

Levi Baugh, Sr., Is Badly Mangled by Large Newfoundland Kept to Watch Premises.

SON SHOOTS THE ANIMAL

Desperate Struggle Is Waged Between the Man and Brute Who Are Alone in Deserted Building.

Levi Baugh, Sr., superintendent of the East St. Louis rendering works at the National Stock Yards, fought for half an hour with a big Newfoundland watch dog in the office of the company Friday night. Before Mr. Baugh escaped from the room the flesh was torn off his right leg between his knee and his ankle. His condition is serious. Last night Levi Baugh, Jr., shot largest specimens of his sort, and was purchased for $100 several months ago by Levi Baugh, Jr. It was customary to keep the animal tied in the daytime and in the night morning one of the men, who acted as its

Friday evening Mr. Baugh, Sr., had occasion to go to the office to look up some business matters. He forgot all about the dog and unlocked the office door and walked in. As he did so the big dog sprang at

Mr. Baugh was unarmed, except for a heavy cane, which he always carries at the stock yards. The dog did not get a hold at the first jump, and Mr. Baugh struck it on the head with the cane. This only seemed to anger the dog, and with growls and snarls it rushed at him again, This time the animal caught its teeth in Mr. Baugh's coat collar. He beat the animal as hard as he could, but was unable to loosen its hold. Seizing a heavy inkto loosen its hold. Seizing a heavy inkstand he smashed the animal in the face.

This caused it to drop off him, and Mr.
Baugh ran for the door. Before he reached it the dog was at him again, and again he tried to beat it off.

When Mr. Baugh was almost dragged to the floor, the animal loosened its hold to secure a better one, and Mr. Baugh got to the door. As he jumped out, fighting the animal back with his cane, it grabbed him by the leg, and in the struggle which ensued Mr. Baugh's leg was badly mangled.
His cries for help had attracted several of the workingmen, and they came to his assistance. Mr. Baugh was taken to his home, where a doctor pronounced his injuries serious.

Coroner's jury found that Culling had come to his death while in the discharge of his duty, holding the railroad company responsible for his death.

Culling's home was in Knoxville, Tenn., and he had been detailed to the East St. Louis railroad yards for extra work during the last two weeks. His body will be shipped to his late home to-day. He was unmarried.

While stealing a ride on a Mobile and Ohio passenger train early yesterday morning. John Robinson, 30 years old, a negro of No. 1020 Railroad avenue, East St. Louis, fell between the cars and was killed. At the inquest yesterday afternoon the verdict of accidental death was returned.

HAPPENINGS IN ILLINOIS CITIES AND TOWNS.

EAST SIDE MAY HAVE NEW NATIONAL BANK.

Additional Institution Is Planned to Capture Financial Business Now Being Done in St. Louis.

A new national bank, to be known as the Merchants' National Bank of East St. Louis, with a capital stock of $200,000, is being organized. Incorporation papers have been sent to Washington D. C., and an answer is expected by the latter part of this week. The men back of the new bank, whose names have been used on the papers | Monday, June 1. asking for an incorporation, are Mayor Silas | The Democrats Cook, Thomas J. Healy, Clerk of the City Court; C. E. Pope, A. B. Garrett and J.

Mars, attorneys. Mars, attorneys.

There are now two national banks in East St. Louis, and two trust companies do a banking business. Another trust company has a savings department. The addition of another bank will give East St. Louis as good banking facilities as there are in the State outside of Chicago. It is generally believed that there is pienty of room for another financial institution.

Much of the banking business of big East St. Louis concerns is done across the river, in spite of the hard work done by the banks and trust companies of East St. Louis to keep this business on this side, and it is hoped by the promoters of the new bank that a large part of this outside business will be captured for the new Merchants' National Bank.

Charged With Robbing an Officer. Harry Smith, James Hyde, Thomas Murray and John Pratt were arrested in East St. Louis early yesterday morning on complaint of Deputy Game Warden John Reed, who charged them with holding him up and robbing him of his revolver and star. The men were locked up at the police station and receive their preliminary hearing Monday morning. The men say that they took Reed's revolver away from him because he was flourishing it in a saloon.

Three Strikes in One Day. William Starkel, an East St. Louis teamng contractor, yesterday gained what he ing contractor, yesterday gained what he claims is the record for strikes in East St. Louis. He had three strikes during the course of the day, but managed to settle all of them. His teamsters quit first because of trouble about the size of the boxes on their wagons. This was settled, when the shovelers quit for 10 cents a day raise in wages. He settled this strike, and then the teamsters quit again for a raise in their wages. Starkel settled this also and now hopes to have no more strikes.

To Settle Labor Troubles. A meeting of the Carpenters' Union of rium of the East St. Louis City Hall Monday night to devise some way by which there will be less labor trouble in East St. Louis in the fature. It is the plan of some of the leaders to secure, if possible, an arbitration committee which will have the power to settle all disputes between employers and employers in the city in all lines of business. Should this be accomplished the leaders say there will be no further reason for any strike in the city.

The Democrats met in the Grand Juryroom and the Republicans in the Supervisors' room.

The meeting of the Democratic committee was presided over by Thomas J. Canavan of East St. Louis, in the absence of the chairman, John Kickham.

The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic ever held. Reports were received from all parts of St. Clair County, and also from various parts of the district, which showed that the Democratic judicial ticket, consisting of Judge B. R. Burroughs of Madison County, R. D. W. Holder of St. Clair County and Charles T. Moore of Washington County, will be elected by majorities ranging from 4,000 upward.

The district is claimed by about 4,000 majority by the Republicans, but at the meeting yesterday afternoon, the reports received were depressing.

Although the Republican candidates made speeches, there was very little enthusiasm.

The Democratic candidates received a hearty ovation at the Democratic committee meeting. Rousing speeches were made by prominent Democrats over the brilliant prospects for the entire Democratic ticket. room and the Republicans in the Super-
